Chapter 1 Administration

1.1* Scope.
This standard shall identify the performance requirements necessary to perform the duties of a fire officer and specifically identifies four levels of progression.

1.2 Purpose.
The purpose of this standard shall be to specify the minimum job performance requirements for service as a fire officer.

1.2.1 The intent of the standard is to define progressive levels of performance required at the various levels of officer responsibility. The authority having jurisdiction has the option to combine or group the levels to meet its local needs and to use them in the development of job descriptions and specifying promotional standards.

1.2.2 It is not the intent of this standard to restrict any jurisdiction from exceeding these minimum requirements.

1.2.3 This standard shall cover the requirements for the four levels of progression — Fire Officer I, Fire Officer II, Fire Officer III, and Fire Officer IV.

1.3* General.
1.3.1 All of the standards for any level of fire officer shall be performed in accordance with recognized practices and procedures or as defined by an accepted authority.

1.3.2 It is not required for the objectives to be mastered in the order in which they appear. The local or state/provincial training program shall establish both the instructional priority and the program content to prepare individuals to meet the performance objectives of this standard.

1.3.3 The Fire Fighter II shall meet all the objectives for Fire Officer I before being certified at the Fire Officer I level, and the objectives for each succeeding level in the progression shall be met before being certified at the next higher level.
Chapter 4 Fire Officer I

4.1* General.
For certification at Fire Officer Level I, the candidate shall meet the requirements of Fire Fighter II as defined in NFPA 1001, Fire Instructor I as defined in NFPA 1041, and the job performance requirements defined in Sections 4.2 through 4.7 of this standard.

(B) Requisite Skills. The ability to communicate orally and in writing and to organize a disaster plan; and familiarity with inter-agency planning and coordination.

7.6.2 Develop a comprehensive plan, given data (including agency data), so that the agency operates at a civil disturbance, integrates with other agencies' actions, and provides for the safety and protection of members.

(A) Requisite Knowledge. Major incident policies and procedures, physical and geographic characteristics, demographics, incident management systems, communications systems, contractual and mutual-aid agreements, and local, state/provincial, and federal regulations and resources.

(B) Requisite Skills. The ability to communicate orally and in writing and to organize a plan; and familiarity with inter-agency planning and coordination.

7.7 Health and Safety.

This duty involves administering a comprehensive risk management program, according to the following job performance requirements.

7.7.1 Maintain, develop, and provide leadership for a risk management program, given specific data, so that injuries and property damage accidents are reduced.
(A) Requisite Knowledge. Risk management concepts, retirement qualifications, occupational hazards analysis, and disability procedures, regulations, and laws.

(B) Requisite Skills. The ability to communicate orally and in writing, to analyze data, and to use evaluative methods.
Annex A is not a part of the requirements of this NFPA document but is included for informational purposes only. This annex contains explanatory material, numbered to correspond with the applicable text paragraphs.

A.1.1 It is envisioned that in addition to the requirements of NFPA 1021, the authority having jurisdiction may require additional credentials. These can include fire degree programs and general education in business, management, science, and associated degree curricula.

A.1.3 Fire officers are expected to be ethical in their conduct. Ethical conduct includes being honest, doing “what’s right,” and performing to the best of one’s ability. For public safety personnel, ethical responsibility extends beyond one’s individual performance. In serving the citizens, public safety personnel are charged with the responsibility of ensuring the provision of the best possible safety and service.

Ethical conduct requires honesty on the part of all public safety personnel. Choices must be made on the basis of maximum benefit to the citizens and the community. The process of making these decisions must also be open to the public. The means of providing service, as well as the quality of the service provided, must be above question and must maximize the principles of fairness and equity as well as those of efficiency and effectiveness.

The International Association of Fire Chiefs Code of Ethics is just one example of general and professional codes of conduct available for reference.

A.3.1 Definitions of action verbs used within this document are based on the first definition of the word found in Webster’s Dictionary.

A.3.2.1 Approved. The National Fire Protection Association does not approve, inspect, or certify any installations, procedures, equipment, or materials; nor does it approve or evaluate testing laboratories. In determining the acceptability of installations, procedures, equipment, or materials, the authority having jurisdiction may base acceptance on compliance with NFPA or other appropriate standards. In the absence of such standards, said authority may require evidence of proper installation, procedure, or use. The authority having jurisdiction may also refer to the listings or labeling practices of an organization that is concerned with product evaluations and is thus in a position to determine compliance with appropriate standards for the current production of listed items.

A.3.2.2 Authority Having Jurisdiction (AHJ). The phrase “authority having jurisdiction,” or its acronym AHJ, is used in NFPA documents in a broad manner, since jurisdictions and approval agencies vary, as do their responsibilities. Where public safety is primary, the authority having jurisdiction may be a federal, state, local, or other regional department or individual such as a fire chief; fire marshal; chief of a fire prevention bureau, labor department, or health department; building official; electrical inspector; or others having statutory authority. For insurance purposes, an insurance inspection department, rating bureau, or other insurance company representative may be the authority having jurisdiction. In many circumstances, the property owner or his or her designated agent assumes the role of the authority having jurisdiction; at government installations, the commanding officer or departmental official may be the authority having jurisdiction.

A.3.2.4 Listed. The means for identifying listed equipment may vary for each organization concerned with product evaluation; some organizations do not recognize equipment as listed unless it is also labeled. The authority having jurisdiction should utilize the system employed by the listing organization to identify a listed product.

A.3.3.1 Comprehensive Emergency Management Plan. In some jurisdictions, a comprehensive emergency management plan (CEMP) is also known as a disaster management plan or local emergency plan.

A.4.1 It is recognized that the job of Fire Officer may not be as physically demanding as that of a Fire Fighter. However, the physiological and emotional stress incurred by Fire Officers can still be significant. Therefore, it is recommended that physical fitness requirements for Fire Officer personnel be developed and validated by the AHJ.

A.4.2.4(A) Member-related problems could include substance abuse; acute, chronic, and delayed stress; and health, financial, personal, family, and other situations that adversely affect the member’s job performance.

A.4.2.5 The Fire Officer I should be able to deal with administrative procedures that might include transfers, promotions, compensation/member benefits, sick leave, vacation, requests for pay or benefits while acting in a temporary position, change in member benefits, commendations, disciplinary actions, and grievances.

A.4.5 The committee’s intent is to instill an awareness of those areas that officers might address in the performance of their duties. Organizations that desire higher levels of competency in these areas should refer to the applicable NFPA professional qualifications standards: NFPA 1031 and NFPA 1033.

A.4.6 Emergency service delivery is the component of fire department organization providing mitigation of responses to emergency incidents, such as those involving fires, emergency medical situations, mass casualties, hazardous materials, weapons of mass destruction, and terrorism, as well as other emergency events.

A.4.6.2(A) Size-up includes the many variables that the officer observes from the time of the alarm, during response, and upon arrival in order to develop an initial action plan to control an emergency incident. These observations can include building type and occupancy, fire involvement, number of occupants, mechanism of injury, materials spilled or involved in fire, wind direction, topography, and demographics, among others.

A.4.6.3 This requirement takes into consideration the officer’s ability to give orders, direct personnel, evaluate information, and allocate resources to respond to the wide variety of emergency situations the fire service encounters.
A.4.7 One of the fire officer’s primary responsibilities is safety both on the fire ground and during normal operations. The fire officer must be cognizant that these operations can include risks and threats of intentional harm to personnel. This standard defines the minimum requirements for the fire officer. NFPA 1521 and applicable OSHA regulations define additional requirements for the officer who might be assigned those duties.

A.6.4.2 The following are some of the budgeting systems commonly used:

1. Planning programming budgeting system (PPBS)
2. Line item budgets
3. Zero-based budgeting (ZBB)
4. Program budgeting
5. Performance budgeting
6. Matrix budgets
Annex C Discussion of Methods of Evaluation

This annex is not a part of the requirements of this NFPA document but is included for informational purposes only.

C.1 Methods.

It is evident that, given the complex nature of the fire officer standards, flexibility is needed when considering the qualifications of applicants for certification. In addition to exam-driven certification methods, accredited certifying organizations or AHJs can consider a variety of other methods of compliance with the job performance requirements. For example, when an applicant submits educational credentials, the actual course objectives should be matched to the JPRs. Furthermore, individuals might demonstrate proficiency through documented job-related experience. Finally, a “menu” approach through a combination of the above-referenced and other credible evaluations of proficiency (as outlined in steps 1 through 4) is encouraged. By adopting a flexible approach to certification, accredited agencies or AHJs will promote the Fire Officer Professional Qualifications Standard.

For purposes of clarification, an individual seeking Fire Officer II certification must meet the requirements of 5.4.2, in addition to the others.

5.4.2 Develop a project or divisional budget, given schedules and guidelines concerning its preparation, so that capital, operating, and personnel costs are determined and justified.

(A) Requisite Knowledge. The supplies and equipment necessary for ongoing or new projects; repairs to existing facilities; new equipment, apparatus maintenance, and personnel costs; and appropriate budgeting system.

(B) Requisite Skills. The ability to allocate finances, to relate interpersonally, and to communicate orally and in writing.

The candidate can demonstrate proficiency by any one or a combination of the following methods:

(1) Successful completion of an exam that is correlated to this section
(2) Passage of a higher education course that has objectives that are correlated to this section
(3) Passage of a continuing education course that has objectives that are correlated to this section
(4) Submission, independent review, and approval of job-related experience that includes the following:
   (a) Detailed schedule of the process
   (b) Any statutory guidelines, laws, and procedures
   (c) Detailed documentation of the applicant's involvement in the process
   (d) Final product
